SUE BARTES

Hi Girl! Bud(light)

How's it going! You know, I've been thinking! I've only known you for about a year and a half and I can't remember all the fun we've had! And I'm sure you know what I'm talking about! Like who gives you the right to go past peoples houses and lay on the horn or "blair your AM radio! Who in the heck do you think you are calling little sweet innocent children naughty names! Get contrroll girl! And learn how to drive from the middle of the car seat. If you're going to do it, might as well go "pro!" Yes I will hit the next person who jumps out in front of my car! Plus, you'd better watch your mouth, cause you just make a fool of yourself! If you aren't dumb you're playing stupid! Oh and if you ever get picked up, say Hi to Jeff P. for me! What can I say "Hey. Hey were the monkeys"! I have a suggestion for all the unwed teen girls of America! Keep your glove box cleaned out at all times! And jumper cables come in very handy at times! And if two idiotic boys throw leaves in your car, go after them hit them with any thing handy! Like a bottle of pop or something! Just make sure it doesn't splatter back on your car. Make sure your windshield wipper water spurts 50 ft. in the air, and if some men think they can follow you into a graveyard they have never been in before, they can't, they will probably get a flat tire or run over some dead bodies! But at all times Keep Calm! You shouldn't be screaming at the driver, she can get mad and stop very quickly! Make sure you watch out for kids driving their cars around in circles at the Pork Plant. Never take a walk in the winter at 12:30 at night! It may get a little nippy out! And when little kids look hungry just ask them if they want some "sandy"! Or if they are playing in the street tell them were to go! Out of all and all these are just a few of the really fun things that have happened to you + me! I'm sure there's lots more to come! I Hope! Best of luck in the future and in all you do! Oh, I almost for got the ditch by Enola! Wasn't that fun! Stay Crazy and always have fun! Bye For Now! I'm just going to drop this pen like a bad habit!

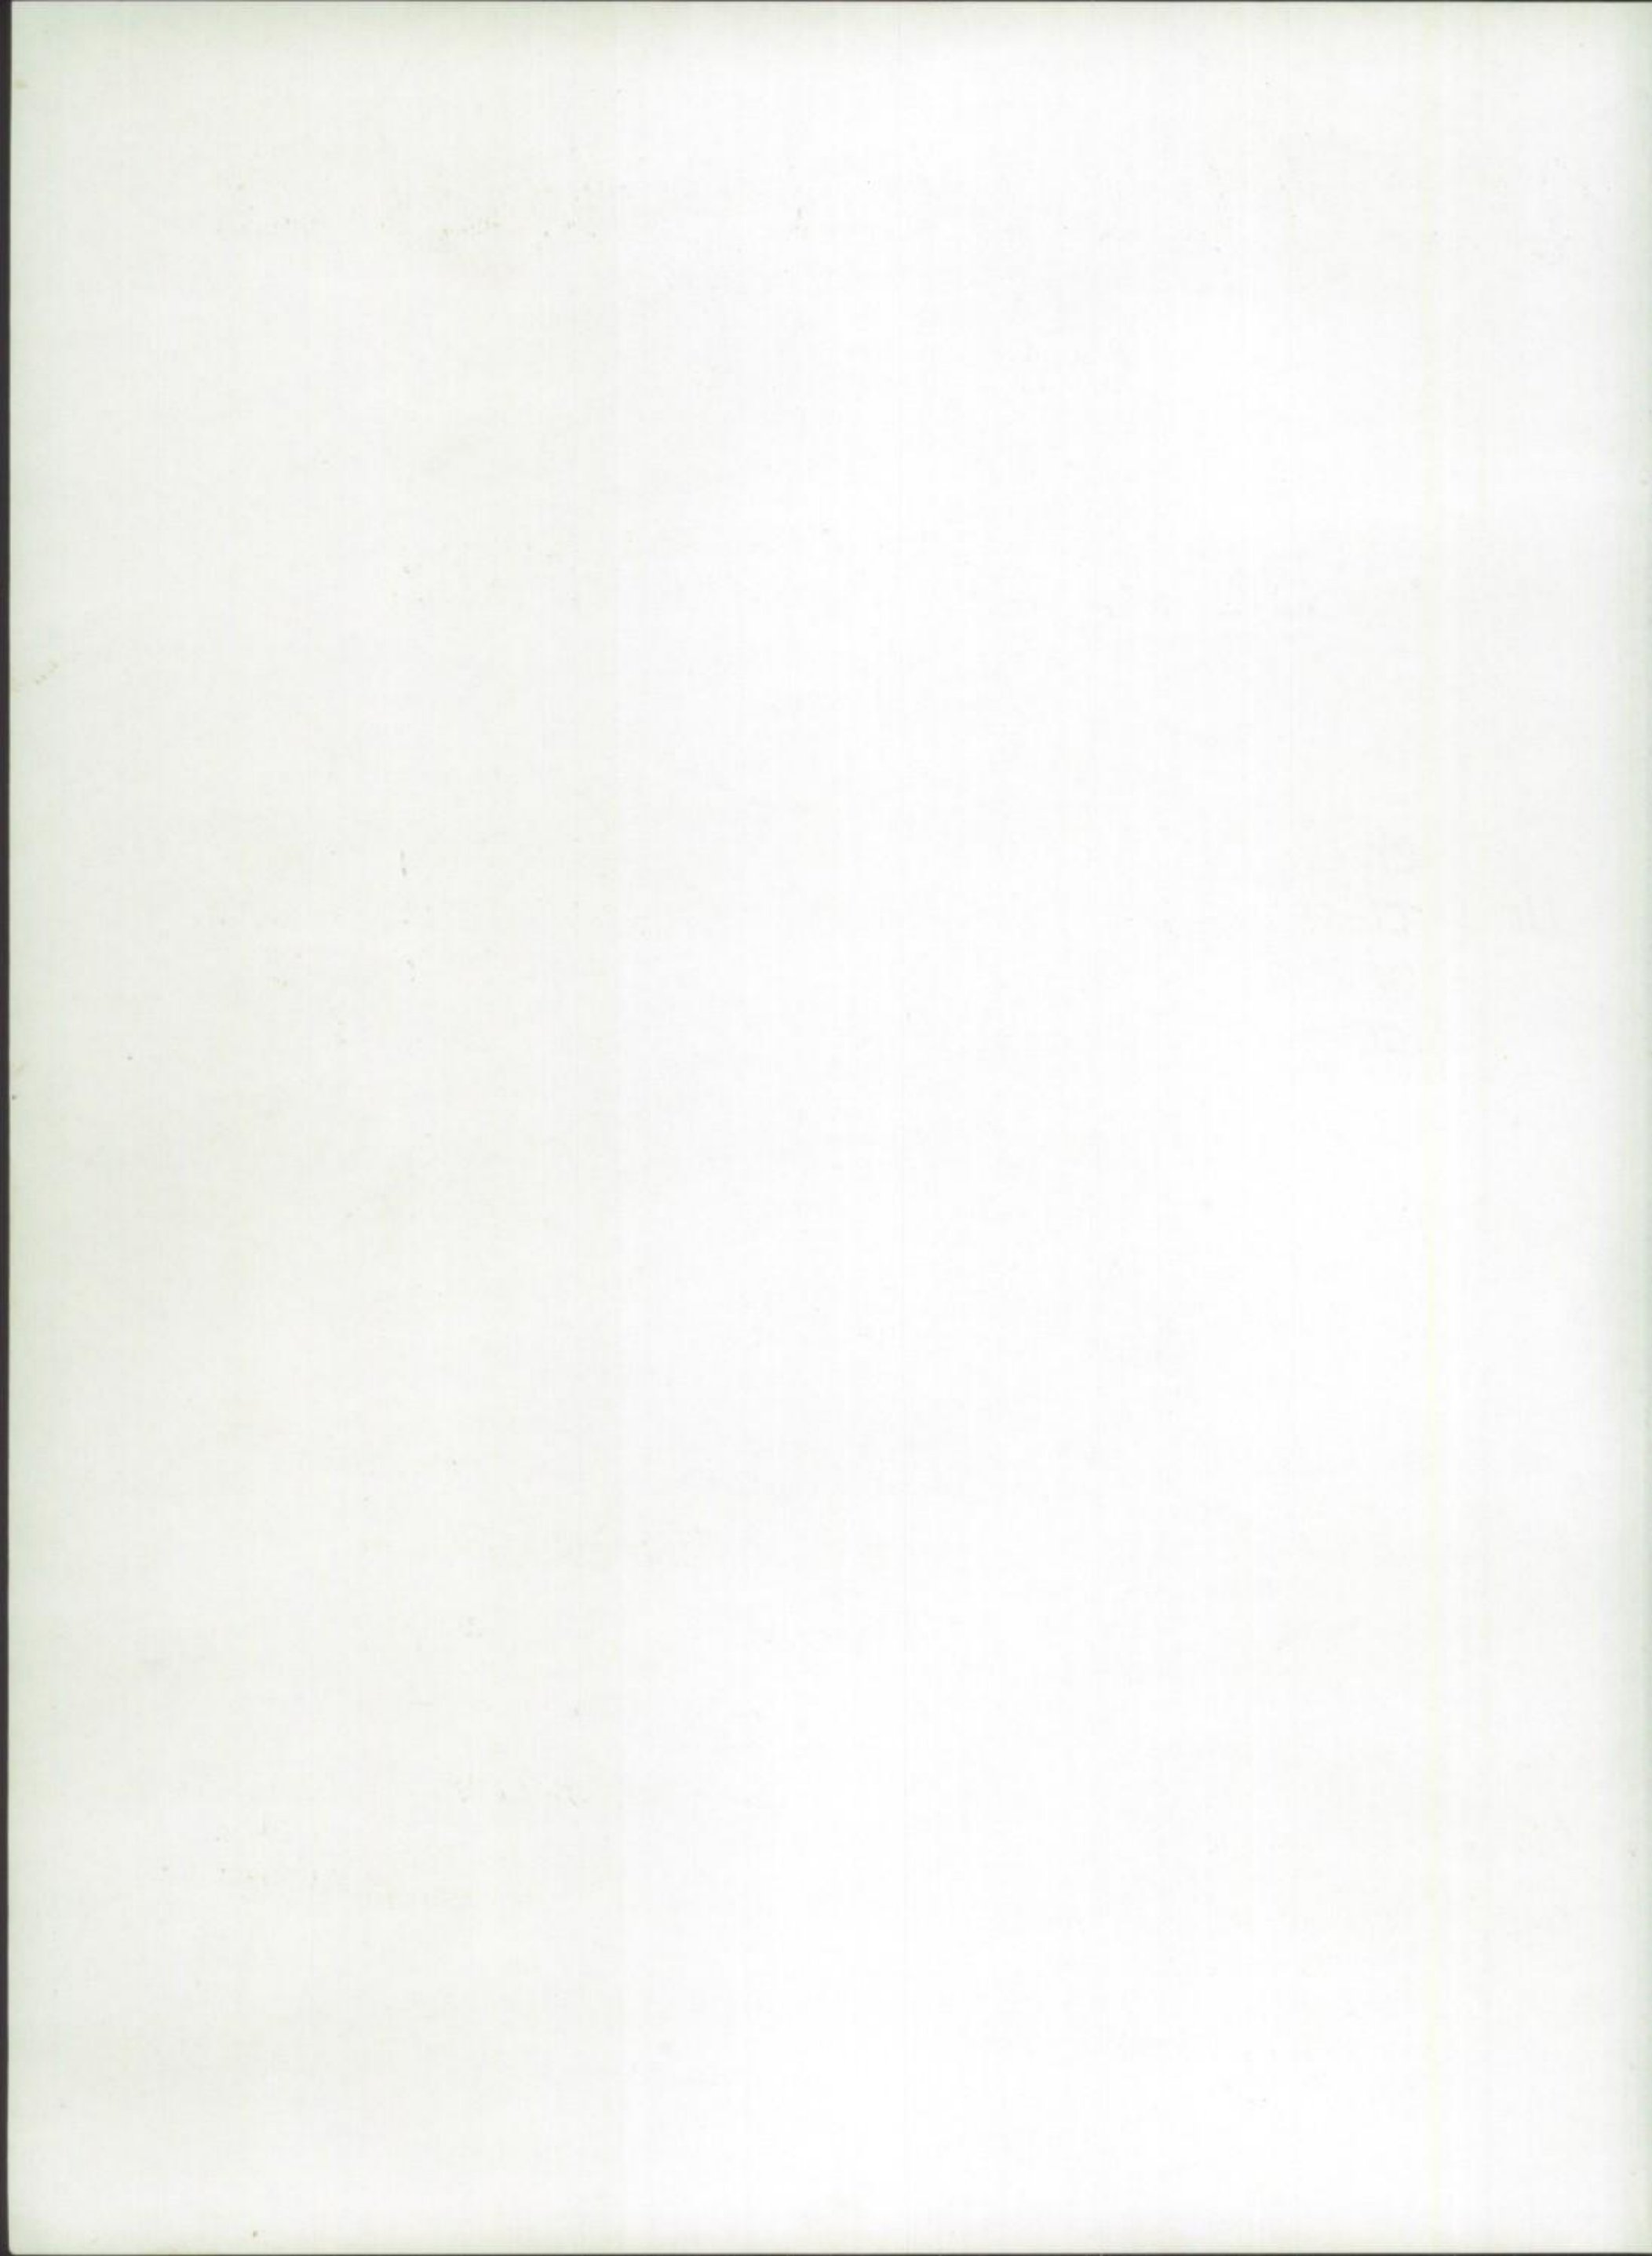

Friends,
Faith

To the left is Mr. Miller's Trigonometry class. As you can see, they're working real hard to impress Mr. Miller with their impression of a 45 degree angle.

Pegg Karel, Madison's computer genius, is trying to fight off the press after her monumental discovery that yes, her chair does roll.

By the expressions shown on Shelley Kratochvil's face we can tell that she's really enjoying her senior year. If you can make facial expressions such as this when you're a senior, it's a sure sign that everything is going great.

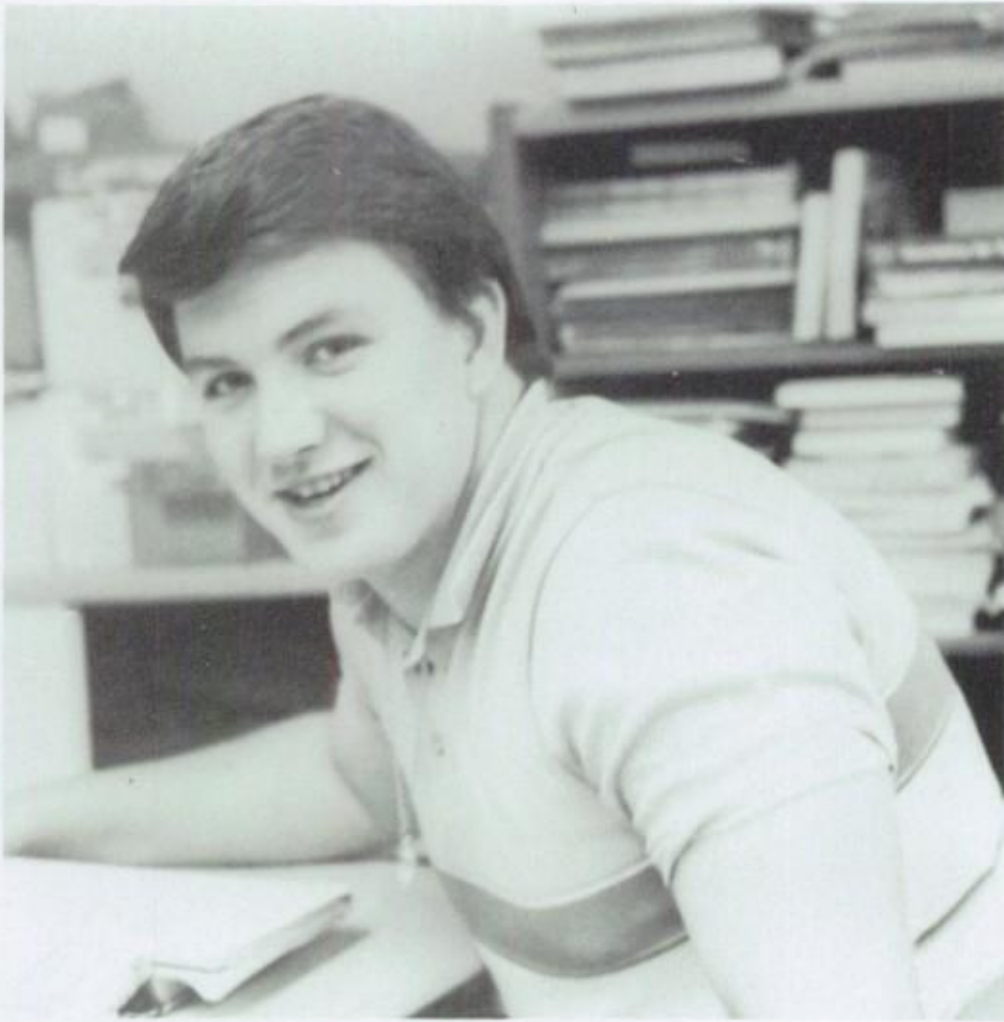

As you can see in the middle right picture, Mike Choutka also is thrilled about being a senior.

In the above picture you'll see the true beauty of Madison High School ladies. We're very proud to have such an array of lovely ladies to represent our school.

(Right) The seniors give their support in the pep rally during Spirit Week. They're very talented as you can see here.

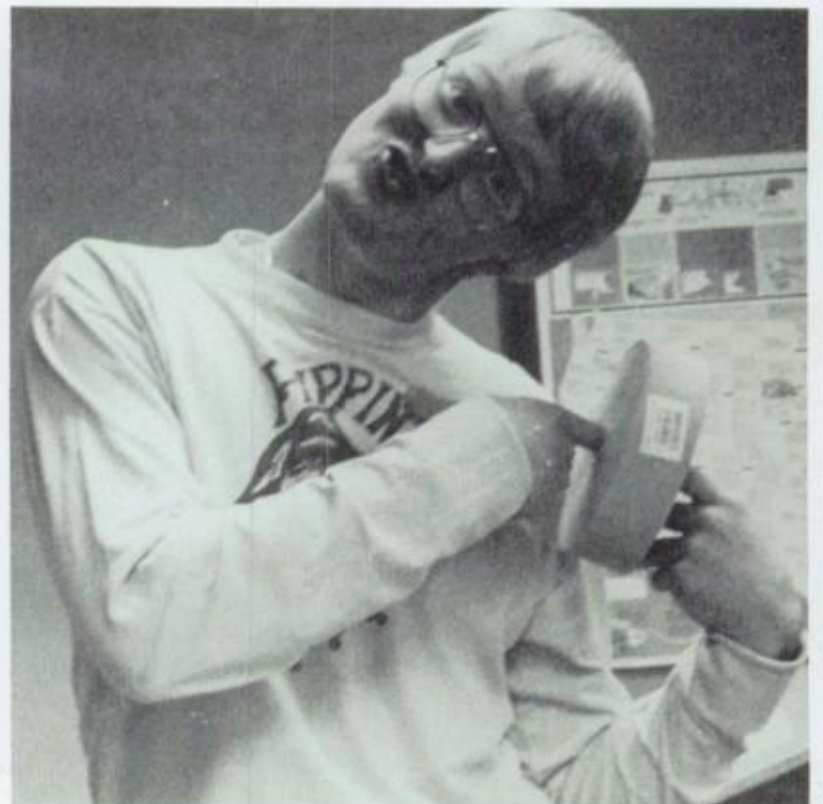

Pictured here is David Christiansen, who looks like a perfect example of a good, studious senior. He actually looks like he's enjoying school. But, as we know, David always did like to act!!!!!!

It looks here as if Mark Freudenburg has been learning his facial expressions from Shelley Kratochvil. I wonder if it's difficult to see the game this way???

In this picture, Angie Schroeder looks as if she's taken over the class. From the way it looks though, she seems to be at a loss for students.

OTHER MOVEMENTS IN THE WORLD

On Tuesday, January 28th, 1986 an ordinary day was interrupted at Madison High. Most of the kids were sitting in their 3rd period classes when on came the T.V.'s and the news hit us: the Challenger - America's 25th space shuttle mission - was interrupted by a tremendous explosion just minutes after take-off. The seven crew members who lost their lives aboard the Challenger were: Dick Scobee, Mike Smith, Ellison Onizuka, Ron McNair, Greg Jarvis, Judy Resnick, and the woman who was to be the first teacher in space, Christa McAuliffe.

All that was to be heard in the classrooms was silence as we watched over and over the scene of that final liftoff of the Challenger. It was something that seemed to hit close to home because I think that a lot of us had taken the long-running success of NASA for granted. It sort of seemed like the space program was infallible. Well, it wasn't so.

I think that this event is something that will remain in our minds forever . . .

OTHER EVENTS

The Kansas City Royals won the 1985 World Series against the St. Louis Cardinals.

The Chicago Bears did the "Super-Bowl Shuffle" over the New England Patriots in the 1986 Superbowl.

Rock Hudson was the first known celebrity to die of AIDS. After the death of Hudson, the House Appropriations subcommittee voted to double the suggested budget for research on AIDS and to increase funds for education and public health programs.

President Reagan ordered an air strike on Libya to try and show Qadaffi that terrorism cannot be tolerated.

There was a Russian nuclear accident in Chernobyl in which two were reported dead, but it was believed that thousands were actually harmed.

1986 marked the 100th year of the Statue of Liberty. The festivities were large and exciting and were held on July 3rd and 4th of this year. The Madison High School band was one of the bands chosen to participate in the activities which were held in New York City.

Basketball player Len Bias died of a heart attack induced by cocaine and alcohol overdose.

For the first time in Nebraska's history, we have two candidates running for governor who are both women: Republican Kay Orr and Democrat Helen Boosalis.

For the second time in a year, Cyanide was found in Tylenol capsules. Tylenol has thus ceased the making of capsules and now they make only tablets and caplets.

22 year old Charles Rumbard was given the death penalty for a crime committed when he was 17 years old.

Chief Justice Warren Burger resigned and was replaced by Justice William Rehnquist as the new Chief Justice of the Supreme Court.

A total of 1,948 people were killed in accidents involving aircraft in 1985 - the worst year in aviation history.

Philippine President Ferdinand Marcos was ousted by Corazon Aquino after Marcos stuffed the ballot boxes in his favor in a very tarnished election.

MTV - Music Television celebrated its fifth anniversary as the "original" video music station.

The Seniors of the Class of 1986 actually survived 4 years of high school and graduated . . . can you believe it???????

MOVES OF ANTICIPATION

The Juniors of 1985-86 looked forward to the year with anticipation, knowing that they had many goals and challenges to meet since their last year was moving up fast.

Throughout the year, the juniors did many career related activities including the career interest test and a day in Mr. Kuhls office playing career related games. Other activities that the juniors were involved in were the selling of magazines to pay for the Prom, and also the planning of the Prom.

Although tough at times, the juniors moved through a rewarding year on the road to graduation.

Karen Weiss, Kelly Plugge, and their little friend show you their three beautiful smiles and wave hello. This picture was taken during 'be kind to animals' week.

Madison High's top surgeon, Shane Groff, shows us his technique used to save this pig's life. We're very proud of Shane and all the wonderful accomplishments he's made in the animal world.

Kelly Petersen is deeply involved in his studying. You can feel the intensity coming from this picture; we caught one of those rare moments when Kelly is studying.

Yes, even guys gossip a little. Although this group doesn't seem to have too much to talk about.

Gary Dreger seems to be the only one in this picture who's safety minded enough to wear his safety goggles. Craig Sunderman and Brad Nathan like to live dangerously.

"All right, we'll have no more remarks like that", says Patti Boe.

CHALLENGING MOVES

Surviving the parties in Mr. Lee's and Miss Samway's rooms was tough, but the sophomores of 1985-86 managed to take the challenge set before them and overcome.

"Fun" was definately a word in the sophomore vocabulary, because they were involved in many activities and everywhere you went there was always a sophomore with a smile on his face; probably up to something.

The sophomores moved ahead through the challenges of the year and came out on top.

One of the many amazing things you can learn to do here at Madison High School is demonstrated by Miss Susan Severa.

Kevin Albracht tries to hold back the applause as he and Rod Cahoy make their way up the stairs.

Its hard to tell, is this a new sign language class, or is this just a bunch of "wild and crazy guys" welcoming you to Madison High School with open arms?

Is it true? Is Kevin Signor actually working? This is a very rare occasion, so rare that Dale Robertson looks on in disbelief and Jerry Smith is too shocked to even look!

ALL NEW MOVES

Moving up from Junior High to High School can be a new and exciting experience as many of this year's freshmen learned. The Freshmen roughed it through English and Physical Science, sweated through health and P.E., and generally got a lot of work done . . . when they weren't messing around.

The freshmen got the feel of being in high school by participating in sports, plays, and concerts. They were a very active group and we're sure they're in for many more exciting times ahead of them on their way up through school.

The Freshmen of 1985-86 proved to be a very violent class. As you can see, Rick Johnson had a hard time adjusting to the ups and downs of freshmen life. Troy Lopez is attending to his injuries.

Numerous head injuries were also happening in the freshmen class. Traci Krumland is using her newly learned first-aid abilities to help Kelly Klawon after she suffered a massive headache.

Tricia Moore stands there wondering whether to run back into the bathroom or to run out and get the cameraman.

Ric Noring looks on as Mr. Campbell gives Chad Claar some advice on how to avoid head injuries.

As you can see, you can always find someone turning around to see what you're doing.

The freshman had the winning banner, and also won the overall class competition and earned a day off. Their banner reads: Tomorrow ... A dream that leads us onward.

Mrs. Jensen's class is working hard. It always helps you to work hard if you turn around alot.

Yes, Junior high kids are everywhere, but Keela Thomas is doing something you don't often see kids doing, being the teacher.

The 1985 Track season was a good one, young Dragon squad with only one senior out had a very good year. The season was full of excitement and fun and alot of people breaking records and achieving personal records. The track program looks very good in the years to come with the addition of the new track it should attract more students to participate.

STRAYT had much success last year, but this year they met with a few difficulties, but otherwise had a pretty prosperous year. They organized a VCR party. They had two cancellations but the third time they rescheduled it and it was a great success. Their fundraisers, also, were quite prosperous. STRAYT had two leaders known only by their first names (their last names were forgotten) Brian and Wendy.

The 85-86 M-Club under the able leadership of Mr. Grubaugh made all the right moves. Members are those who letter in sports so only the hard workers in their particular sport can be M-Club members. DRAMATIC MOVES

The 85-86 Drama Club was most exceptional this year under the direction and guidance of Director Jacquelyn Samway. The people and the plays were both exceptional. The Drama Club put on the Fall Play, "Wizard of Oz," the musical, "Annie", the one-act, "Crimes of the Heart", and the spring melodramas, "Never trust a City Slicker" and "Ballad of Gopher Gap".

MOVING CHEERFULLY

Madison High School has been graced with perhaps the best cheerleaders to cheer our athletes on. These ladies worked their hardest to boost the morale of both the players and crowd at the games. The cheerleaders also put on a great performance at Coronation.

These are the freshman cheerleaders and they are from top to bottom: Traci Krumland, Tricia Moore, Shelly Lawson.

These are the junior varsity cheerleaders, and they are from top to bottom: Tina Gentry, Shelly Lopez, Jenny Berends, Nikki Peterson.

The lunch council Members are: Susan Severa, Jamie Schaffer, Melissa Widhalm, Linda Rohman, Jenny Berends, Ron McDermott.

For the first time in a long time, this year's yearbook staff, was all male. This phenomenon would account for the great class of yearbook it is. Actually, the only phenomenon was the hard work that the staff put into the yearbook and actually it would of been nice if the staff had some creative skills from a woman's point of view.

ACTIVELY MOVING ON

LET THE SPIRIT MOVE YOU

Spirit Week once again was in full swing this year, consisting of a different way to dress each day. The days were Nerd day (which wasn't too difficult with some of the students), Hawaiian day, Dress-up day, Inside-out-backwards day, and Red day.

Friday, Red day, also included a downtown pep rally to boost the team's spirit in order to beat Stanton. Which, of course, we did!!!

Student participation in Spirit Week was quite good and "good job" to those of you who had the guts to go out there and show some school spirit.

Above you see the real class of 1986. Here they look more natural than they did all year long. This radical bunch of nerds include Larry Severa, Tammie Smith, Julie Schmidt, Barb Weiss, Shelley Kratochvil, Bonnie Ambrose, Sue Cahoy, Jane Dusel, and Pegg Karel. Lookin' good!

Steve Denton, a sophomore nerd, is shown here in one of his favorite suit and tie outfits. The steamed over glasses and the sticking-out hair add a wonderful dimension to this very nerdy appearance.

Here are some of the younger members of the Madison community during our pep rally too, adding their enthusiasm to help boost the team to victory.

GOVERNMENTAL MOVES

Each year members of Mr. Spence's senior government class get the opportunity to participate in County Government Day. The seniors run for office, and if elected go to participate in a day of work at the courthouse. Above are the members of the senior class who were elected to be in County Government Day. They are (from left) Shelley Kratochvil, Julie Schmidt, Larry Severa, Gary Miller, Shane Weidner, Jeff Luehrs, David Christiansen, Mark Freudenburg, Barb Weiss, Mike Choutka, Ron McDernott, Sue Cahoy, and seated is Mike Thompson.

To get elected into office for County Government Day the seniors held a campaign day in which all the underclassmen sat in the commons and listened to members of both parties get up and give speeches as to why they should be chosen for the office they are running for. The speeches were interesting, humorous, and some were down right nasty. The underclassmen enjoyed hearing members of one party slamming members of the other party. After the speeches the election was held and the votes were tallied. Congratulations to those who won!

DRAMA CLUB MOVES

The 1986 Drama Club Banquet was held in the commons. There was a pot-luck dinner followed by a slide presentation and the receiving of awards. The letter winners were: (back row) Chris Slizoski, Dennis Bunik, Kari Renner, Kim Nathan, Nikki Petersen, Chad Claar, Joe Smith, Terry Kuehler, Troy Lopez, Brad Cole, Carl Anderson. (Middle row) Julie Jensen, Jeff Luehrs, David Christiansen, Tanya Rotherham, Amy Aschoff, Shelley Kratochvil, Gary Miller, Ric Noring. (Front row) Julie Schmidt, Vicki Parham, Niki Shaw, Patti Boe, Susan Severa, Ranae Melcher, Kelly Plugge, Kathy Schwarz, and Stacy Bartak.

We'd all like to thank Miss Samway for a fun and successful year in speech and drama.

MOVING OFF TO SEE THE WIZARD

The Drama Club started off the year with the well known classic tale of the Wizard of Oz. Yes, once again Dorothy was whisked off her uncle's farm in Kansas with her faithful dog Toto and was swept into the mystical magical land of Oz. From the very beginning Dorothy seems to be just the thing that the land needed. She set the munchkins free, who in turn set her on the yellow brick road; the road to the Wizard of Oz.

With her band of followers she picks up on the way: the lion, the tin woodsman, and the scarecrow, she exposes the falseness of Oz, destroys the Wicked Witch of the West, gets her friends their wishes, and returns home again to her aunt and uncle in Kansas.

MOVING DOWN EASY STREET

(Upper left) Daddy Warbucks (David Christiansen) gives Annie (Niki Shaw) a loving, fatherly hug after telling her that he was going to adopt her.

(Upper right) Grace Farrell (Ranae Melcher), Mr. Warbucks' secretary, listens intently as Mr. Warbucks tells of his plans to search for Annie's mother and father.

Niki Shaw and "Ginger" Samway starred as Annie and Sandy in the 1985 Drama Club musical "Annie".

(Far right) Lilly St. Regis (Shelley Kratochvil), Ms. Hannigan (Julie Schmidt), and Rooster Hannigan (Mike Jurgensen) dance to a little "Easy Street" as they plan the kidnapping of Annie.

The 1985 Madison High School Drama Club musical was "Annie", performed December 3rd through the 5th. The play is about the orphan, Little Orphan Annie, and her dog Sandy and their adventures encountered in the search for Annie's parents.

Annie (Niki Shaw) was living in an orphanage run by the cruel Ms. Hannigan (Julie Schmidt) who hated orphans and was just waiting around hoping to come into some money so she could live on Easy Street. One day Oliver "Daddy" Warbucks (David Christiansen) sent his secretary Grace Farrell (Ranae Melcher) to go pick up an orphan to spend Christmas vacation with them. The minute Grace saw Annie, she knew that she was to be the one to spend Christmas with them. And, after a little blackmail, Ms. Hannigan reluctantly gave in and let Annie go.

As the story goes, Daddy Warbucks falls in love with Annie and vows that he will find her parents no matter what the cost. Meanwhile, Rooster Hannigan (Mike Jurgensen), Ms. Hannigan's brother, and his female companion Lilly St. Regis (Shelley Kratochvil) team up with Ms. Hannigan to try and fool the Warbucks estate into believing that they are Annie's parents in order to collect the reward money. The day before they were to pick up Annie, Oliver Warbucks received news that Annie's parents were dead. So, when the trio came to pick up Annie, they were arrested and put in jail.

Then, to everyone's surprise, Daddy Warbucks decided to adopt Annie and everyone had a happy Christmas.

NEVER TRUST A CITY SLICKER

The 1986 "Spring Melo-Dramas" consisted of two plays, one of which was 'Never Trust a City Slicker'. The scene takes place in Mrs. Hookworm's (Julie Schmidt) theatrical boarding house which is occupied by a number of poor washed up performers. The story is about Slicker Pinsetter (Mike Jurgensen) and his attempt to steal a play written by Mary Delightful's (Kari Renner) father. But, his attempts keep getting thwarted by boarders, such as the Dancing Doilys (Julie Jensen and Patti Boe), the cynical theatrical producer Bill E. Goat (Joe Smith), Julius Dimwiddie (Dennis Bunik) a very hammy actor, Madame Macaroni (Niki Shaw) and her sidekick Annie One-Note (Stacy Bartak), not to mention the broken armed trapeze artist named Ava Avocado (Ranae Melcher) and that snotty little brat Sturgeon (Terry Kuehler). There was also the flamboyant Taffy Quackenbush (Jeff Luehrs), the surveyor Digger (Cory Oltmer), and Chester (David Christiansen) who was quite fond of Mary Delightful.

Although Slicker tried very hard, he just couldn't win out over the mob of boarders, and the love that Chester had for Mary. In the end Slicker was beaten up mercilessly by Chester and the day was saved, not to mention the play

Sturgeon (Terry Kuehler) sits under the table taunting the other performers while hiding from Mrs. Hookworm.

Mrs. Hookworm (Julie Schmidt) stands holding her whip, which she enjoys to use, while discussing business with one Slicker Pinsetter (Mike Jurgensen).

THE BALLAD OF GOPHER GAP

The other "Melo-Drama" was 'The Ballad of Gopher Gap'. This is the story of the villainous Bunco De Sneer (Carl Anderson) and his slightly stupid sidekick Slat (Troy Lopez), and his assayer Flora Fourflusher (Jenny Berends). The trio is attempting to sell stock in a fake Gold mine to some wealthy easterners in order to get rich quick. The easterners include Judge Cyris Abercrombie (Brad Cole), his sister Otille (Nikki Petersen), and Becky (Vicki Parham). In the process they run into trouble from people like Crazy Nanette (Kelly Plugge), and Toby Mugg (Chad Claar) Bunco's partner in a previous crime. Then along comes Rocky Romantic (Ric Noring) with the deed to the mine in order to give it to Verlinda Springblossom (Susan Severa), an airheaded beauty to whom the mine belongs. Also, to mess things up further, there is a nosy woman reporter by the name of Minerva Hotchkiss (Shelley Kratochvil).

Despite all the interruptions it looked like Bunco was gonna get away with it until Toby, Slat, and Rocky teamed up in order to stop him during his escape. It just goes to show, the bad guy always finishes last . . .

Above: Bunco De Sneer (Carl Anderson) hypnotizes Verlinda (Susan Severa) in order for her to sign the deed for the mine over to him. Flora (Jenny Berends) and Slat (Troy Lopez) sign as witnesses.

Crazy Nanette (Kelly Plugge) tries to convince Rocky Romantic (Ric Noring) that he is her "long lost child."

COMPETITIVE MOVES

The Contest One-Acts were held at Madison High School this year. We put on the play "Crimes of the Heart" and received third place in competition. The story is about the Magrath sisters: Lenny (Ranae Melcher) and Meg (Julie Schmidt) and their attempt to help Babe Botrelle (Niki Shaw) to be found innocent of shooting her husband and trying to cover up her affair with a little black boy. To do this they enlist the services of a lawyer by the name of Barnette Lloyd (Gary Miller). They also have to put up with Chick Boyle (Stacy Bartak) and her 'high and mighty' attitude which none of them seem to like too well. It was a very humorous play which worked out well in the end.

Chick Boyle (Stacy Bartak) gives her opinion of Meg Magrath.

Meg Magrath and Barnette Lloyd (Julie Schmidt and Gary Miller) talk over the subject of the murder of Babe's husband and just how they're gonna try and prove her innocence.

LET THE MUSIC MOVE YOU

The choir for 1985-86 put on two concerts, in the fall and spring, for the parents and other members of the community and participated in two Choral Clinics; one in Humphrey and one in Albion. The choir consisted of a number of small groups too. The choir had a very fun and rewarding year.

This is the 1985-86 choir performing their fall concert in the Madison High gym. Ms. Lux is the choir teacher and Mrs. McDonald was her assistant who played the piano for this concert.

Another small group is 4 Jazz. They compete in competitions and are very talented. The members are: Kelly Plugge, Niki Shaw, Brad Cole, and Kyle Knapp.

MOVING TO ASSEMBLE

One of the other activities at Madison High were the assemblies we had once a week in the spring. Different people were invited to come and share their talents with the students. Pictured here are two of the guests who came. To the right is a man who showed wildlife and explained his concerns for conservation. Pictured with him is the back-up bird for the one used in Buick commercials. Below is the magician attempting to cut Randy Jackson's hand off. Other guests included a musical group and the one we'll never forget - Cascade Jack!!!

FAIR MOVEMENTS IN SPRING

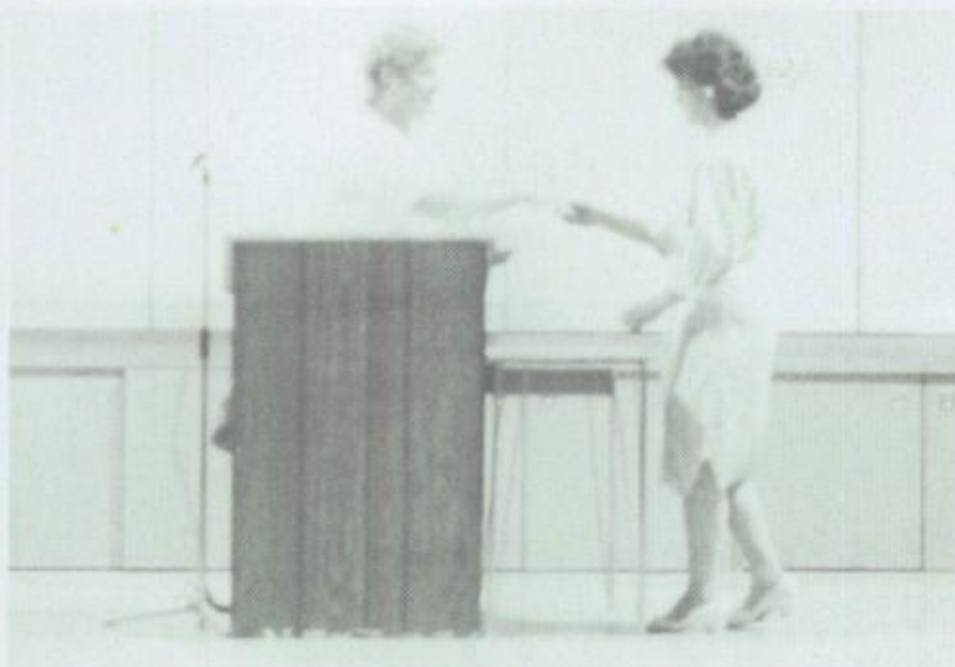

The 1986 Spring Fair was held in the commons and included a number of different things. Two of the speech team members gave speeches, the vocal groups and a few solos sang songs, and the home economics class modeled the clothes that they made.

The advanced Biology students showed off their experiments and the Art classes had their art work displayed for everyone to look at. The Spring Fair is a time when individuals can show off their talents that we otherwise might not see. To the left is Nikki Petersen giving her speech and above are the MHS singers performing a song and dance number.

Mike Choutka and Barb Weiss are the King and Queen for the 1986 school year chosen from a very fine graduating class, the class of '86.

MOVING WITH CLASS

The 1986 Madison Junior-Senior Prom was held May 3, 1986 in the Gym. The theme for the 1986 prom was "Touch of Class". The class wills were read by Kelly Plugge and the class prophecies were read by Jerry Lapour. The sophomore prom servers also put on two skits. One portrayed the different actions of the coaches during a football game, and the other was a type of "Family Fued" game about how well you knew your school in which the questions were about different members of the school. The Prom dinner was catered by Johnnies Steakhouse in Columbus.

Lots of preparations were made for the prom, including Mr. Gilson hanging tightly onto a ladder to the ceiling in order to hang up the huge gate doors. The week prior to prom the juniors got out of what classes they could in order to decorate. The decorations included chandeliers, purple archways, streamers, and a tunnel.

After the prom came the post-prom party which was sponsored by the parents of the senior class. It consisted of games and prizes and was concluded by the giving of prizes to everyone who came and stayed the whole time.

The hardest part of prom was coming back at six o'clock in the morning and cleaning everything up. We all walked around half asleep, some fully asleep, and managed to do a pretty fair job of cleaning up. The easiest way to describe prom is to say that it was a real success.

MOVING FORWARD . . .

STAFF MOVEMENT

"Magic" Anderson shoots one of the many 'messed up' papers into the trash. Incidentally, it took about 15 or 20 times before he finally made it.

The Annual Staff of 1986 was unique in one way, it was all male. I, as editor, must admit that it would have been nice to have a little help from the girls. It was a fun, yet rough year for the annual staff, trying to figure out how to set up a layout and figure out the type isn't as easy as it looks. Sure, there were those times when we naturally couldn't concentrate and had to mess around, but there was a lot of hard work involved in getting the yearbook ready. There were a lot of summer days that the staff spent down at the school bent over a typewriter in Mr. Lee's room banging on the keys trying to come up with something creative enough to be called a "yearbook".

Members of the annual staff were: Jim Gross, Steve Denton, Troy Pospisil, Randy Preister, Joe Smith, Jerome Eisenmann, Cory Oltmer, Craig Sunderman, Scott Scheffler, Carl Anderson, Shane Groff, Dennis Bunik, and Art Lee.

Overall it was a great year and we hope that this yearbook is satisfying to everyone and that it brings back wonderful memories of a great school year.

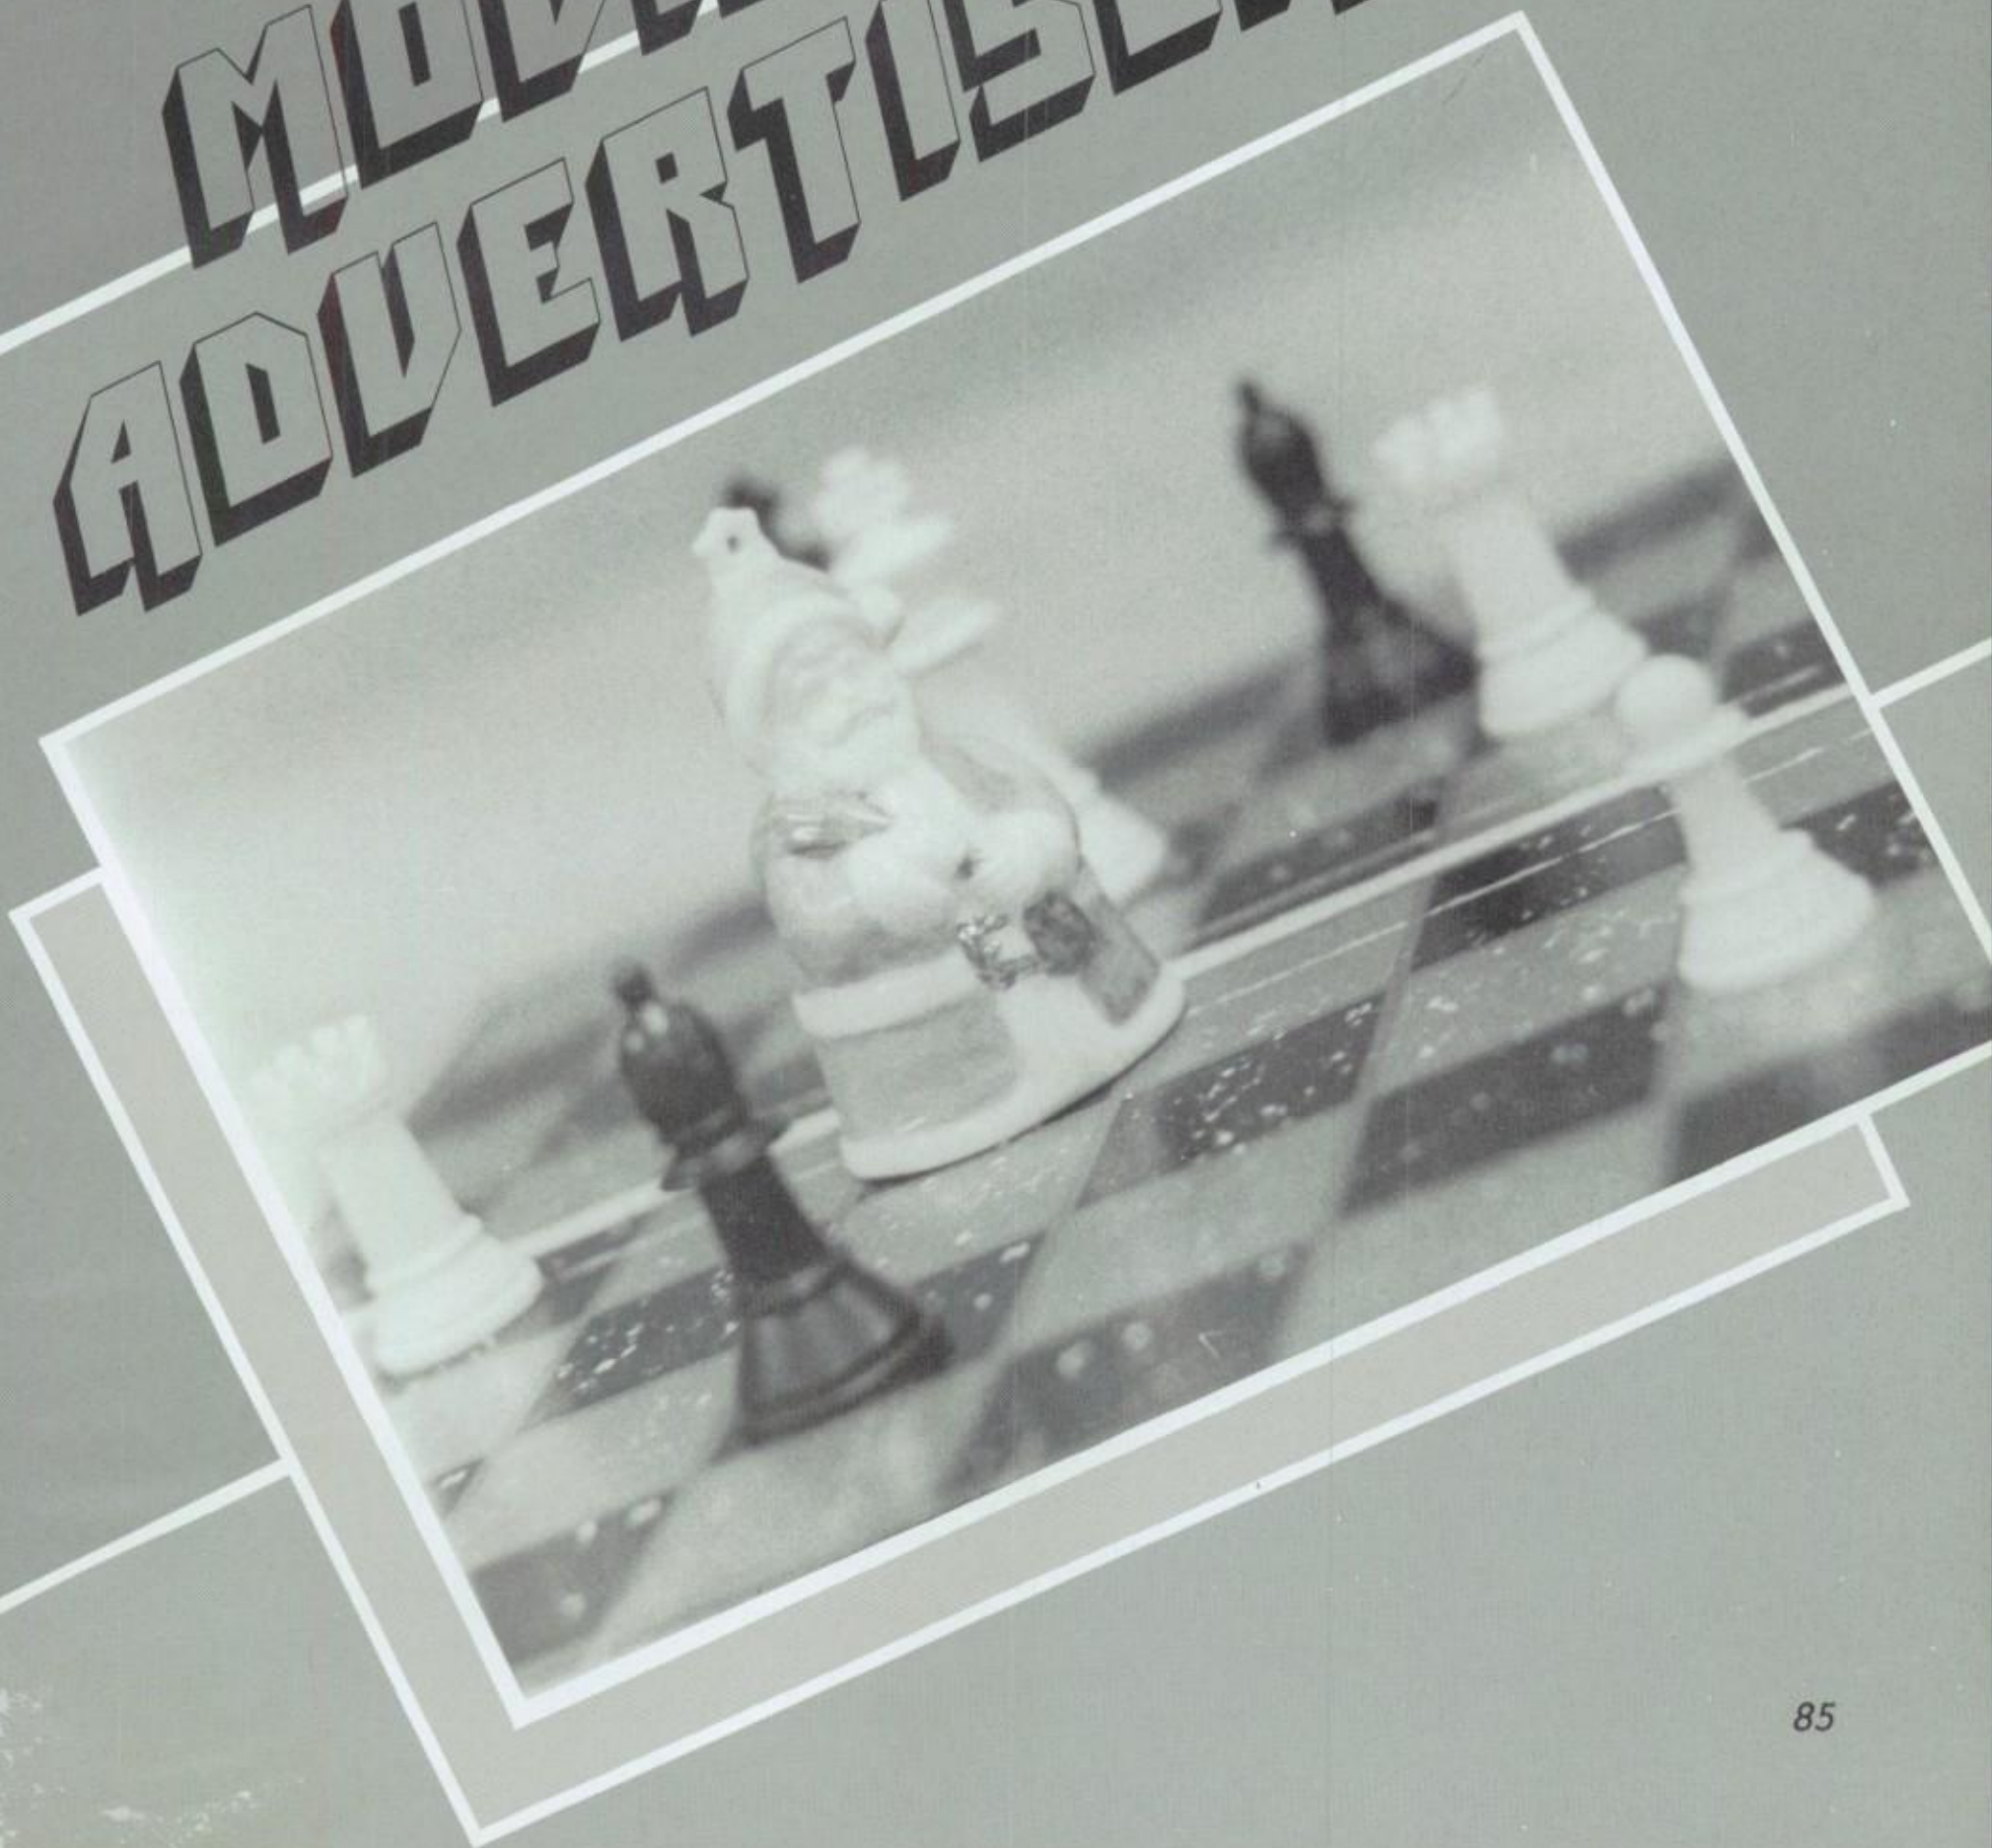

Randy Preister working hard at the typewriter. "Let me see, 'Kratoch vil' - Does that look right???"

Cory Oltmer, one of the photographers, is quite excited by the opportunity to get his picture taken. Keep up the hard work Cory!!!

Sue,

Hi daughter of all times. Where do I begin? I'm so confused!! No really I'm not just a little hyper!! Don't forget all the really fun times we've had. Like when we got married! 😊 I'm sure funny ha-ha! Or me staying over night and having to go home at 7:00 in the morning! Yuck (my mom isn't the best). Or at Randi's wedding oh God I still haven't forgotten that night. I probably never will. You and Andy never even went to sleep at all! Or did you? Sue I love ya like a sister and can't wait till you're 16! That may be rather fun! Or the valentine's card you gave me last year. I could of cried. That was so sweet! I'll never forget the times we've had together and all the fun! We have to raise some massive hell on these of these

Nights!
Yellow & better go! Good luck in the last 2 1/2 years at this job.
Wish you the best of luck
with Jim and everything else!
